Dear Mr Smith,

I am looking for a placement within a design studio environment from May to June of this year. I am writing to you as I believe that Smith Designs could possibly have suitable vacancies open or upcoming. I have a strong enthusiasm in creative problem solving and printing processes to which I understand that your company provides.

My interest within commercial design began from my work with my degree yet it was a touring visits to your studio, which included viewing the various screen and lithography printing facilities that you coordinate to create visual solutions for clients. This event confirmed with talks with my lecturers about my aims into progressing this area of profession.

Whilst on my degree course, I have gained a keen interest in digital solutions to briefs, which has been developing using the Adobe Suite to combine analogue processes with digital manipulation. Alongside this I have gained experience in publishing my own work to a professional standard for assessment considering printing compositions, colors, and materials. I have good drawing and computing skills on both mac and pc from completing numerous in-house and external briefs to which I have achieved 2:1 to First Grades within my two years of study.

I would be appreciative if you could consider me for any positions suitable valuable. I have no restriction concerning any times for possible talks or interviews as I live within 15 minutes from your studios.

Please find enclosed my CV where you will find further information.

Sincerely,

James Trangmar
